
For monthly robustness results, gray marks anticipation months when present; amber marks the opening period (t=0, shown but excluded from the pre-trend test).
Each outcome uses its longest overlap across available methods; anticipation is shown but excluded from the clean-lead test. Error bars are 95% city-cluster intervals when available.